Crossing our Busy Streets Safely!

This Open House presents an opportunity to learn safety by design. Roadway design impacts how readily people can get around their community. There will be a presentation to help us understand how some design features offer greater safety benefits than others.

The Big Picture!

This Open House will identify street crossings that have been prioritized in Bend to be redesigned to utilize these key safety features.

We will explore the role these street crossings play in the city's development of family-friendly, low-stress walking and biking corridors and how those routes can re-connect our community!

The Devil's in the Details!

This Open House will allow us to examine each crossing proposal and its alternatives in detail. We will discuss each crossing, review its features, and learn how each alternative alters traffic flow and operations. Help improve each design by providing your input and comments on each alternative.
